Dear State Representative Scott Bedke,

You recently took an important step in referring former Rep. Aaron 'von' Ehlinger to the House Ethics Committee where he was found "to have engaged in conduct unbecoming a representative, which is detrimental to the integrity of the House as a legislative body."

You and the Ethics Committee showed leadership in trying to make the House — and the revered building in which we all are free to conduct the people's work — a safer place for staff, visitors, and elected officials alike.

But I am writing today to urge you refer Rep. Priscilla Giddings to the House Ethics Committee as well for her role in publicly identifying the 19-year-old intern who bravely reported on Ehlinger's behavior.

Giddings circumvented due process in directing her constituents and the general public, through her official, publicly-funded email list and her social media, to articles and blog posts that publicly named the teen who the committee has respectfully called Jane Doe. This practice, known as "doxxing" has no place in the Idaho House of Representatives, and Giddings should be called to answer for her despicable actions during this case.

I urge you to refer Rep. Giddings to the House Ethics Committee for a full investigation of her behavior, and I am sure that your colleagues will also see her actions as conduct unbecoming the office.

Thank you for your attention to this urgent matter. We must return the People's House to a place that honors Courage, Safety, and Voice.

Are you going to do something about this absurd group you have in the House of Representatives? Pricilla Giddings and Heather Scott? This is the most absurd group I can remember in this state and I have been here a very long time. The actions of both of these representatives were unacceptable and both must resign or be expelled from their positions! There is a tornado of anger coming your way if you continue to allow these Far Right Wing Extremists to control the statehouse and bully our innative rights, our bodies, and our education! I would seriously like to know how this was ever allowed to happen and why the culture around them have been allowed to become so misogynistic and toxic! Waiting to hear from you, thank you, [REDACTED]

As a concerned Idaho citizen I thank you for referring the Representative von Ehlinger sexual misconduct matter to the House Ethics Committee, and I commend the Ethics Committee for its unanimous, impactful action following its hearing on that matter. There is still one glaring example of unbecoming conduct yet to be addressed: that of Representative Giddings, who should now be referred to the House Ethics Committee.

Despite the Ethics Committee's efforts to maintain the privacy of the alleged victim in the Representative von Ehlinger matter, Representative Giddings maliciously published the young woman's identity before the hearing (even including her picture) in order to intimidate and harass her, directly, and indirectly by inciting others to further victimize her, which is exactly what then happened. According to news reports Representative Giddings then compounded her efforts to harass the witness by laughing and scoffing at the young woman's testimony during the hearing.

Representative Giddings' actions toward the alleged victim are reprehensible. In a criminal matter her tactics would constitute felony witness intimidation under Idaho §18-2604(3). In the context of a formal House Ethics investigation they evidence an unacceptable moral and ethical breach by a House member that falls far below behavioral expectations for Idaho legislators. The proper resolution is a referral to the House Ethics Committee for a hearing on, and potential sanction of, her unbecoming conduct.

Thank you. Sincerely,

I just read Rebecca Boone's AP report in the Idaho Statesman about what Jane Doe had to go through at the hands of Rep. Priscilla Giddings, Rep. Heather Scott and others.

Since when is it appropriate to harass a rape victim. To post photos of her when she was only 14 and calling her names. Threatening her with arrest.

Why has these deplorable people been called to task? Are you in agreement with their actions?

Dear State Representative Scott Bedke,

Please investigate Ms Giddings for doxxing Jane Doe, who bravely testified last week. What kind of person reveals the identity of a victim of a sex crime? Not someone fit to serve in the Idaho legislature.

Do you know anyone who has been raped? I do. Shame, PTSD, and fear follow the survivor. This woman is now being harassed on line and in person. How will anyone be able to come forward and testify against legislators in the future? Who will hold those in power accountable for abusing their power? Ms Giddings, by the way, abused her power in this matter.

Do you question her motives? I do. Please investigate.
Thank you.

Censure of Aaron von Ehlinger

Thanks to the committee for voting to censure Aaron Von Ehlinger. I am disappointed that Jane Doe was compelled to testify in person.

I attended the hearing and was appalled at the behavior of several legislators who were audibly and physically demeaning to witnesses. This behavior was not dignified, respectful or appropriate for anyone, much less people who serve constituents.

I call for an investigation/hearing regarding the behavior of Rep. Priscilla Giddings towards Jane Doe. Rep. Giddings behavior was wrong, hateful and immoral. All citizens of Idaho deserve better.

I am hopeful the legislature will do more to protect everyone who works in the Statehouse, particularly minors and women.

Dear State Representative Scott Bedke,

Please refer Rep. Priscilla Giddings to the House Ethics Committee for her role in publicly identifying the 19-year-old intern who bravely reported on Ehlinger's behavior.

What possible reasoning makes it ok to do this? Rep Giddings is claiming she did this out of a sense of fairness. And maybe if Jane Doe had been an elected official accused of raping someone then it would be fair to put her under the same public scrutiny and share her information publicly.

But Jane Doe is not an elected official. It is not ok to weaponize your platform as an elected official against a citizen. A citizen who at best has not been accused or charged with a crime, and worst has gone through something horrific in a public forum.

An elected official of Idaho put a rape victim's identifying information on her public social media and is claiming it was 'just a news article'. Someone elected to serve the people of Idaho used that power and platform in a way that directly harmed an Idaho citizen. A young Idaho citizen in a vulnerable place I might add.

This looks like a deliberate attempt to harm Jane Doe by Rep Giddings. If Rep Giddings did not intend to do that, then she clearly has no understanding of the power of her platform and the harm she can cause.

No one deserves to be chased from the Idaho Capitol after testifying in front of our legislature. Rep Giddings actions contributed to an environment where a 19 year girl had to flee the capitol grounds. No matter where you stand on Jane Doe's veracity, we should all be able to agree that as a state we hold ourselves to a higher standard of behavior. This was a delicate situation that Rep Giddings failed her state and office in handling appropriately.

Please hold Rep Giddings accountable.

In addition to Rep. Giddings position as an elected official, her education at the US Air Force Academy and continued service as a commissioned officer in the US Air Force Reserves, not to mention her position as the Idaho State Director of Admissions for the Air Force Academy and R.O.T.C., all require regular continuing training on proper procedures pertaining to allegations of sexual misconduct. This training specifically addresses preliminary treatment of the accused as well as required measures to protect the accuser through completion of due process. Rep. Giddings' actions display a blatant disregard for the safety of a 19 year old accuser of sexual misconduct. This is a stain on the Idaho House of Representatives. Speaking as a retired US Army Major, her conduct is unbecoming of an officer, and brings discredit to the officer corps as a whole.

Giddings circumvented due process in directing her constituents and the general public, through her official, publicly-funded email list and her social media, to articles and blog posts that publicly named the teen who the committee has respectfully called Jane Doe. I was appalled to learn that Ms. Giddings had released the identity and personal information of a rape victim. Nor is the irony lost on me that this occurred during an ethics investigation.

It is my sincere hope that the House Leadership will address this matter and at the very least censure Ms. Giddings if not remove her from some committees by way of punishment for her damaging actions. The harm she has inflicted on this woman is real and not theoretical. It is not something a person should do much less someone in a position of leadership. This cannot be ignored.

Dear State Representative Scott Bedke,

Just as (now former) Rep. Aaron von Ehlinger was recommended to the House Ethics Committee for "[engaging] in conduct unbecoming a representative, which is detrimental to the integrity of the House as a legislative body," so should Rep. Priscilla Giddings be referred for an ethics investigation.

In an atrocious process called doxxing, Rep. Priscilla Giddings publicly identified the 19-year-old staffer who reported von Ehlinger's unethical behavior toward her. Giddings used her official email list and social media to harm the reputation of a victim of sexual assault, which is most definitely unbecoming of her office.

Please refer Rep. Giddings to the House Ethics Committee for a full investigation, so that we may return a more civil, professional, and humane environment to the Statehouse.

Dear State Representative Scott Bedke,

I want to thank the Ethics Committee for unanimously agreeing that former Rep. Aaron von Ehlinger exhibited unprofessional and inappropriate conduct that was unbecoming of a representative. I appreciated their firm message that publicly elected officials MUST behave professionally, ensure a safe work environment, and treat all capitol workers with respect.

However, the firmness of your message and the trust of your constituents will be lost if you do not ALSO refer Rep. Giddings to the Ethics Committee for conduct unbecoming of a representative.

When Rep. Giddings publicly posted Jane Doe's name and photo (also known as "doxxing") to her official emailing list and on her professional social media pages, Rep. Giddings exhibited cruel and harmful behavior. Not only did she circumvent due process, but this deeply unprofessional act was vicious and endangered Jane Doe. Because of Rep. Giddings actions, Jane Doe was publicly smeared, threatened, and physically targeted and harassed. Sexual Assault victims deserve respect and their safety should be of utmost priority. For Jane Doe's colleague -- and a colleague with more influence and power, no less! -- to intentionally foster an unsafe environment is heinous and MUST be condemned.

I urge you to refer Rep. Giddings to the House Ethics Committee for a full investigation of her behavior. If you truly want to emphasize the importance of respect, safety, and professionalism, you and your colleagues will also see her actions as conduct unbecoming the office.

Thank you for your attention to this urgent matter. I trust that you will do the right thing.

Dear State Representative Scott Bedke,

Dear House Leadership,

Thank you so much for your principled leadership this week in supporting the House Ethics Committee's censuring of Representative Aaron Von Ehlinger. As a survivor myself, it was an incredibly harrowing experience attending the hearing, and then learning more about what happened to Jane Doe after. But the outcome of the hearings restored some of my faith in and respect for state government, and for that I'm very grateful.

One of the reasons I never came forward to report my own experience was because I knew chances were good that I would be publicly shamed or doubted. When it happened to me, it was the norm to believe that women deserved whatever they got. People in power couldn't always be trusted to do the right thing. The person who assaulted me went on to assault other women, and for that I will always have tremendous regret that I was not more courageous. Now it is too late.

This is why it is so important that you refer Rep. Priscilla Giddings to the House Ethics Committee as well for her role in publicly identifying the 19-year-old intern who bravely reported Ehlinger's behavior. Her actions discourage other young women from coming forward with the truth in the future, because they will fear retribution, trolling, and additional violence towards them. A clear line must be drawn if you are to communicate to Idahoans that the statehouse is a safe and ethical place to work.

I urge you to refer Rep. Giddings to the House Ethics Committee for a full investigation of her behavior, and I am sure that your colleagues will also see her actions as conduct unbecoming the office.

I am emailing to strongly encourage you to have the Ethics Committee investigate Rep. Priscilla Giddings and her extreme harassment of Jane Doe in the Von Ehlinger case. Immediately after the news was released that Von Ehlinger would be going before the Ethics Committee, Rep. Giddings released the name of the victim and proceeded to intimidate and defame this young woman on Facebook. After the Ethics Committee ended their hearing, it has been reported that she followed Jane Doe into the hallway to harass and intimidate again. Idahoans expect their legislators to follow the basic laws of human decency and by her actions in this matter, Rep. Giddings has shown that she doesn't choose to fairly hear both sides. Von Ehlinger supported her far right political views and that is the only thing that mattered to her. I find this particularly egregious since Giddings is the mother of a daughter. This representative needs to know that her actions in this case will not be tolerated by her fellow legislators. [REDACTED]

I am writing because Representative Giddings must face censure for outing the name of “Jane Doe” on social media as part of the Von Ehrlinger travesty. This is an incredible embarrassment for our state, and it must be rectified. By the House. This entire affair was handled incredibly poorly by the House. I believe the Senate has somewhat better guidelines. While you are hanging around seemingly forever you could also add something useful to your rules for the future in this regard.

Representative Giddings’ sharing was beyond the pale and must be called to account. I have volunteered with and donate to the WCA in Boise for over 30 years, and this event took our progress backwards almost that far. It is a sad sad day.

Mr. Bedke,

I have just read an account of the shameful, inexcusable behavior of some members of the Ethic Committee in today's hearing. There were reportedly a number of legislators who were joking and laughing during the hearing, the same hearing which caused the young Jane Doe to have a panic attack in the restroom. There is no way in which this can be considered appropriate. I don't know whether you have daughters, but I ask you, at least hypothetically, how you might feel if one of your daughters were the young woman in question. In particular, the behavior of Priscilla Giddings is reprehensible, and if it is true that she shared information about this young woman, she should receive the harshest censure possible.

What this young Jane Doe experienced today at the hands of legislative members who are supposed to represent leadership in our state is absolutely appalling. It falls to you as Speaker to condemn their behavior in no uncertain terms, to apologize publicly to this young woman, and to ensure that she is not subjected to further taunting at the hands of legislators.
